A DULL DAY.
Monday is a blue, blue day,
We must go back
To work, slack,
And bitter are the things we say.
Monday is a sour, sour day,
How dull we find
The tiresome grind
When we have had a bit of play.
Monday is a long, long day,
It drags its course
Until, perforce,
We think 'twill never wear away.

WAS IT MURDER?

Or Did Ira Norton Lose His Life By His Own Recklessness?

Ira Norton, aged about 25 years, and a well-known figure about town, was ground to pieces Sunday morning between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock by a Westbound C. and O. freight train.

The tragedy occurred at a point a short distance above the C. and O. freight depot, and the first intimation of the killing was made by the Engineer, who on inspecting his engine at the depot, discovered blood on the wheels and reported the same to the office.

The head of the unfortunate man was severed from the body, both legs were cut off and the torso dragged along the side of the track for a distance of several hundred yards, leaving a bloody trail in its wake.

Whether Norton lost his life in an attempt to board a moving train or was foully dealt by, are matters that will be developed by Coroner Dresel in his inquest Court today.

It is an established fact, however, that a short time previous to the finding of the dead man, that Norton had participated in a fight in which knives and rocks were freely used. Officers Ryan and Tolle having arrested Thomas Hickman, Ab Bradford, Howard Greely and Homer Gilbert as participants.

Young Hickman's nose was nearly cut off in the affray and was sowed on by Dr. Yazell, and others in the gang showed evidence of having been engaged in the bloody encounter.

An improvised slungshot made by tucking a rock in a handkerchief was picked up near the scene, covered with blood.

Norton's remains were taken to Coughlin's undertaking establishment and prepared for burial.

The funeral will take place this afternoon from the home of Marion Moore.

Interment in Maysville Cemetery.

J. H. Turvey and Bessie Halsey, colored, were granted marriage license Saturday.

Roy Price, colored of Millersburg, was arrested Saturday night by Officers Seateaney and Tolle. He is charged with having visited the residence of Mr. Jake Thomas in East Fourth street, where his wife is employed as a domestic, and threatened to kill her.

The Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. will convene in Georgetown tomorrow. The following delegates will likely attend—J. L. Daulton, W. W. McVain, Ed Jackson, Byron Rudy, H. L. Walsh, Arthur Davis, James Outten, W. H. Davis, S. R. Harover, Past Grand Master W. H. Cox.

No wonder death is held so cheap in China. Chinese doctors' fees range from 2 cents to 10 cents a visit. Anyhow, there are no enormous doctors' bills to settle after death.

THERE are two former newsboys in the United States Senate—SMITH of Michigan and CURTIS of Kansas. CURTIS is of Indian blood, and is the first one of his class to enter the Senate.

POLITICS is being played to beat the band to induce President ROOSEVELT to accept a third term of the Presidency. Democrats are in the deal as well as Republicans, and it is merely a scheme to head off the Taft boom.

IN New York City a new law prohibits boys under 10 years from selling newspapers, and boys under 14 years of age are prohibited from selling papers between 10 p. m. and 6 p. m. The boys between 10 and 14 have to secure Board of Education permits.

Is it any libel to state that the administration of Governor BECKHAM is the most contemptible in the history of Old Kentucky, considering that even many Democrats concede that it is the worst governed state in the Union? There has been more outrageous and contemptible official and judicial misfeasance during the seven years of BECKHAM than in all the anterior period of the state's history. It's enough to make the people, en masse, cry out: "God deliver Old Kentucky from Governor BECKHAM's political regime!"

CANDIDATE HAGER probably imagines it is more contemptible for a Republican to steal $964 than it is for a Democrat to steal $200,000 or $60,000.

Mr. President, the Mississippi River is big enough, and crooked enough, and ugly enough to take care of itself and keep its own channel washed out, and it should not call upon Uncle Sam for a dollar. It's the beautiful Ohio which needs Governmental attention to the extent of three score of millions and two score of dams. The Ohio river is the greatest water course in all the world, and its perfect improvement and development concerns more millions of money and humanity than any other similar improvement of a living water course ever projected in this country.

CANDIDATE HAGER's question to the Republicans as to what became of $964 during the brief rule of Governor TAYLOR, reminds one of the stingy old farmer, who, when asked by his wife for some money, gruffly exclaimed: "What did you do with that 10 cents I gave you last week?" Nobody believes Mr. TAYLOR would steal $964. If it had been $964,000 that was missing, then, maybe, TAYLOR might have tried to get away with it. Remember that DICK TATE, a Democrat, stole $200,000; and only recently another Democrat, County Clerk SEMONIN of Louisville, stole $60,000. Mr. HAGER takes the high office of Governor as a huge joke.

He—Do you believe the language of love is a kiss?
She—Yes. Let's talk.

A CONFESSION OF FAITH.

Americans May Be Trusted to Work Out Political Problems Without Abandoning American Methods.

The summary of their views as members of the Civic Federation commission by Messrs. Clark and Edgar is one of the most striking features of the report of that commission. Representatives as they are of two of our largest public service corporations, no one can read their statement without feeling that in this case they stand as representatives of American principles rather than of corporate interests.

Their words are a confession of faith—faith in American ideals of business, in American principles of government and in the ability of American manhood to solve economic problems without sacrificing these ideals and institutions upon the altar of socialism.

Frankly admitting, as they do, the existing abuses of corporate privilege and welcoming intelligent regulation of such industries, they do not accept the dictum of the municipal Socialists that a cure is to be found best or only in laying upon our city governments burdens of administration which they were never designed to bear.

They find the solution of the problem rather in cordial co-operation between the corporations and the public, a recognition on the part of corporations that their prime business is to serve the public well and recognition on the part of the people that their relations with such corporations must no longer be left in the hands of cheap politicians, but must be entrusted to men of honor, strength and breadth, who shall see to it that the rights of the people and of the capital invested shall alike be conserved.

If our citizens as a whole have a similar faith in American institutions they will patiently co-operate with the men within and without the corporations who are manfully trying to cure the evils, and they will view with disfavor the patent cure-alls that are being prescribed by political quacks.

HOW TO LOSE MONEY.

Moline's Experience Shows That Municipal Ownership Is a Good Way.

The city clerk of Moline, Ill., writes as follows in regard to the electric light plant:

"Original cost, $12,000; terms, cash. The cost of operating the plant while owned by the city is very hard to determine from the fact that the plant was at that time operated in connection with the waterworks. The books show that appropriations were made for both plants under one item."

"The reason for disposing of the plant: The plant being what was then known as the old United States system, which company had gone out of business, hence repairs for our plant could not be obtained, and as the same was about worn out the only thing, therefore, the council had to do was the construction of a new plant or to light the city under contract. The latter was adopted for the reason that the finances of the city at the time did not allow the construction of a new plant."

According to a local paper, the amount invested in the plant at the time it was sold was $25,910, and the selling price was $7,900. The city went into the business because it was claimed that lights could be run for about two-thirds the price charged by a private company. Although 1,200 candlepower lamps were used and those on moonlight schedule, the operating cost was found to be $54.50. The addition of interest, depreciation, etc., would have brought this up to about $100. The present contract price for 2,000 candlepower lamps burning all night is $65.

SOLD PLANT TO SAVE IT.

Lagrange Practically Wrecked Its Light and Water Plant.

The president of the village of Lagrange, Ill., writes as follows:

"The water and light plant in this village was erected by a private corporation under a thirty year franchise. At the end of the first ten year period the village exercised the privilege which it had under the franchise and bought the entire plant. The original cost is not known. We paid (or agreed to pay) the sum of $160,000 for it. Municipal control and ownership were not successful, and after a few years it was sold to a branch of the Edison company, the consideration being that the purchaser assume all obligations standing against the plant and put it in good order. Nothing had been paid on the principal by the village."

"The cost to the village for incandescent street lights under the original franchise was $10 a year. Under municipal administration no one can tell, as the plant ran down so greatly that the new purchaser has paid over $108,000 so far to put it in good order and is not through yet. Contract price at present again $10 a year."

"Reasons for selling—the village could not raise the money necessary to rehabilitate the plant. Under our law we could not pledge the corporate credit, but only the plant itself. The prospect that the village could manage it successfully was not attractive to capital."

A Letter From an Illinois City.

The superintendent of a municipal electric light plant whose name is suppressed as a matter of courtesy writes as follows:

"Our municipal plant has no reports. We do not make any. But we are running about $300 to $350 in debt every month, due to political handling. Too many political friends and too low rates, etc."

Municipal ownership of public utilities means ownership by the cities for the bosses to control.—Lyman Abbott.

BURLEY TOBACCO GROWERS

Election of Officers and Other Important Business Transacted

Saturday morning the Stockholders of the Mason County Tobacco Warehouse Company met in their office in Front street and elected the old Board of Directors—J. N. Kehoe, William Lintrell, S. A. Shanklin, William McClelland, Samuel Frazee, J. S. Woodward, L. Collis, John Bouldin, S. W. Blatterman, R. T. Watson and E. T. Kirk.

In the afternoon a delegate meeting, representing all the Equity Societies of Mason county was held in the Courthouse for the purpose of electing officers and transacting other business properly brought before it. Dr. J. A. Reed was elected President and S. A. Shanklin Vice-President for the ensuing year.

The Board of Control elected the following officers to serve during the present year—

Chairman—Dr. J. A. Reed.
Secretary and Treasurer—S. W. Blatterman.

A committee consisting of Dr. J. A. Reed, R. T. Watson, L. M. Collis and J. C. Stevenson, was appointed, whose duty it is to look after signed crops not yet delivered to the Society's warehouse, and any other infraction needing attending to.

Owing to the illness of Dr. J. A. Reed, J. N. Kehoe and S. A. Shanklin will represent Mason county at the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Burley Tobacco Branch of the Society of Equity which meets in Winchester today.

This city being one of the five cities—Cincinnati, Louisville, Lexington and Winchester being the other four—who are bidding for the location of the sample storehouse, where will be stored the samples from which sales will be made. Meers, Kehoe and Shanklin were empowered to offer free warehouse storage as an inducement to locate the warehouse here.

Buyers of tobacco from all over the world, it is expected, will come to purchase tobacco by these samples. If they are not satisfied with the Society of Equity grading, they will be granted the privilege of a regrading at points where the tobacco is stored.

It will be a big thing for this city should Maysville be chosen.

The J. B. Finley is still near Paducah with her thirty-seven barges of coal, waiting for a rise in order to start for New Orleans.

The Winona landed at Pittsburgh a few days ago with 1,200 pounds of dynamite to be used in blowing out wrecks in the pools above that point.

In the expectation of a rise at Pittsburgh, boats are hitching up tows and preparing to go out at the earliest possible moment the stage of the river will permit.

Rivermen say the Kanawha river is responsible for the muddy condition of the Ohio, the same as the Missouri gives color and quality to the Mississippi. The Kanawha heads up in North Carolina, where the ground is red.

President Roosevelt, in his speech at St. Louis, declared it the Nation's duty to restore the Mississippi river to its proper place as a great artery of commerce, and termed the proposed fourteen-foot channel from the lakes to the Gulf a "National task."

The supply of empty craft in the Pittsburgh harbor is being depleted by the miners, who have had an unusually long and prosperous season. Coal operators have put forth every endeavor to get as many empty homes as possible so as to avoid laying off the miners.

Official statistics just published show that during the calendar year of 1906 there were transported on the Mississippi river 29,966,508 tons of freight and that 13,691,956 passengers were carried. The number of vessels used in transportation on the Mississippi was 9,098, valued at $23,545,985. These vessels earned $17,611,000 gross.

Rivermen who have been accustomed to pass Letart Island, upper Ohio river, many times each year have learned with sorrow of the death of Captain Thomas Alexander, which occurred last week. Captain Alexander was one of the most unique figures along the rivers. Since his retirement about fifteen years ago he had been accustomed to wave to every towboat that passed Letart Island. Pilots have been accustomed to look for him, and in order that they might be sure to see the accustomed figure, a blast of the whistle would warn the old riverman of the approach of a boat. Captain Alexander was ninety-four years old and had ten living children of a family of eleven.

The Deep Waterways Convention at Memphis adjourned sine die late Saturday after adopting resolutions calling on Congress for an appropriation sufficient to secure a 14-foot channel from the lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, through the route already selected by army engineers. Chicago was selected as the next place of meeting.

The meeting of Hon. S. W. Hager, Democratic nominee for Governor at Maysville Saturday was attended by a fair crowd and a brass band. Mr. Hager's remarks were merely threshing over the same old straw, with platitudes and apologies a plenty. There was nothing in his speech and the remarks of Hon. John K. STATE DEVELOPMENT

Mason County is Asked to Appropriate a Small Sum to Help Boom Kentucky

Reports from Louisville are to the effect that the Kentucky State Development Association, permanently organized at the Fifth State Development Convention held in Winchester last October, is rapidly maturing its plans for an active campaign in the interest of state development. The Association has called the Sixth State Development Convention for Louisville, November 19th, 20th and 21st. President E. J. McDermott of the Association is arranging the most interesting and entertaining three days' program in the history of state development. The convention will be addressed by men of National and international reputation, experts in their several lines.

The Association, however, is laying its plans for a scope of work much broader than can possibly be attained in an annual convention. It is its purpose to exploit to the world the untold wealth of Kentucky, day in and day out to the end that our products and resources may command the attention of capital seeking investment. The constitution of the Association adopted at the Winchester Convention calls upon the public spirited citizens of Kentucky to take membership in the Association at $1 a year. In addition to this every Fiscal Court is asked to make a small appropriation towards the support of the Association. At the semi-annual meeting of the Fiscal Court of this, Mason county, to be held November 9th our County Judge and Magistrates will be asked to appropriate $157.00. This may be done now, legally, as the last General Assembly gave to Fiscal Courts the power to make appropriations for the exploitation of the products and resources of their counties. The County Judge and every magistrate of our county, by making this appropriation will be clothed with authority to name two delegates each to the Sixth State Development Convention who by virtue of this appointment will become members of the Development Association for the ensuing year.

The object of the State Development Association, as outlined in the constitution, shall be to discuss and promote such matters as will advance the interests and redound to the benefit of Kentucky; recommend all needed and beneficial improvements in the state's affairs; to advertise the resources of the state; to secure suitable information concerning immigration to the state, and make efforts to induce desirable immigrants; to do all and everything looking towards the advancement and development of the state in all branches of industry, and to have for its principal object the making of Kentucky a state second to none in wealth, education, enlightenment and influence. Such an Association deserves and should receive the support of every community in the state.

It is our hope that the Fiscal Court of our county will not turn a deaf ear to the appeal of the officers and directors of the Association in whose personnel is represented every section of Kentucky, but on the contrary will make an appropriation of the amount asked for.

DRY TERRITORY

Appellate Court Upholds Liquor Traffic When State Line Is Crossed

The Court of Appeals Thursday held that the local option law of 1906 cannot be construed as interfering with the right to ship liquor from another state into local option territory in Kentucky.

The case in which the decision was rendered was that of the Commonwealth against the Cincinnati Southern Railway involving the shipping of beer into Boyle county. It has been the practice of the Covington Brewing Company to accept orders from Boyle county and then send the beer by way of Cincinnati.

The Court holds that this process is legal, and that the business cannot be prevented under the law shipping from one state to another, bringing the traffic under the interstate commerce regulations.

Judge Barker delivered the opinion.

Claim Made for Doan's Kidney

Pills in Mayville.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer; but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it:

C. L. Hubbard, employed in Cablish's grocery, Cox Building, and living at 325 West Third street, Mayville, Ky., says:

"As I stated in a testimonial given in 1900, Doan's Kidney Pills brought me positive relief from inflammation of the bladder and a disturbed action of the kidneys. After some time I felt a slight return of the trouble but again used Doan's Kidney Pills and found complete relief. Now, after nearly five years I feel able to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills with even greater confidence than before. The results of its use in my case have been very satisfactory."
